Board of Trade Hosts To District Junior Grain Club

Thursday evening last, the Board of Trade entertained the district Junior Grain Club members and friends.

The chairman, Mr. O. E. Jones, before introducing the speakers of the evening, gave a brief review of the activities of the Board and affiliated organizations. Three speakers were introduced, Mr. Davidson of the Wheat Pool, which sponsors all wheat clubs, Mr. Frank Foulds, head of the Dominion Seed Branch in Calgary, and Mr. Hugh McPhail B. A., of the staff of the Olds School of Agriculture, who has supervision of all junior work, and each gave a very interesting talk on work the Junior Grain Clubs had accomplished. They pointed out the weak spots that can be very easily overcome with a little extra work and thus give the individual a much higher percent when judging comes around.

Mr. F. E. Osborne, of Calgary, showed 6 reels of moving pictures on a trip around South America which was very much appreciated by the audience.

Neil Laut, president of the Junior Wheat Club, distributed the prize money and moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Board of Trade and the speakers for a very enjoyable evening. The entertainment was closed with refreshments.

Alberta Fur Breeders Meet

The Alberta Silver Fox and Fur Breeders' Association are holding their First Pelt Show and Annual Meeting in the Palliser Hotel, Calgary, on Dec. 18, 19, and 20. The show will be open to the public on the 20th when it is hoped there will be a large number avail themselves of the opportunity to see the high quality fox and mink furs being produced in Alberta. Mr. T. M. Mair, well known local fur breeder, expects to attend but is not entering any pelts this year.

WEATHER KEEPS FINE

The exceptionally fine weather continues, with the sun shining bright and temperatures above the freezing mark today, though Tuesday was raw and cold and it looked as if snow was not far away. The odd gopher is still out looking quite spry and reports come in from the southern part of the province telling of dandelions and crocuses in bloom.

McFADDEN'S CONDITION HOPEFUL

Dan McFadden, local resident employed by the government as maintenance man, met with a serious accident while on duty just south of town last Wednesday, when he was struck by a passing car, sustaining a broken leg, chest and head injuries. He was attended by Dr. Quirk and taken to a Calgary hospital for treatment. His condition is improved though still critical.

SUCCESSFUL TURKEY SHOOT

The Turkey Shoot sponsored by the Junior Baseball Club was held Wednesday afternoon with a fair crowd in attendance. Shooting was steady and all 36 birds were soon won.

Don McArthur and Carl Tronnes were in charge of the Traps. Some fine shooting was displayed during the afternoon when Harry Fenwick secured 8 birds. To young Clarke McMillan went the honor of getting the first bird. Among other sharpshooters were Frank Brown, Bob Smart, Frank Murdoch and Paul Allen.

In the target shooting Jack Fleming got the first turkey and E. Hopkins succeeded in getting two. Both did some fine shooting.

Our Beloved Sovereign, George VI, who celebrates his 44th birthday today.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Urquhart of Elnora, spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Urquhart. "Teddy" has just returned from moose hunting, where he was successful in bagging a moose and deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Christeson attended the wedding dinner held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Burnett, Carstairs on Dec. 3rd, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Donevon Warren who were married recently. Mrs. Christeson is a sister of Mr. Warren.

On Saturday afternoon, collecting was started in town for the Texaco Nickel Club. J. Belshaw took the jar around and in 90 minutes had 90 nickels, which we call a hearty response to a worthy cause. The "jar" is now in Wood's Garage where those who wish may add their nickel.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

Some people have complained about the cost of relief given to farmers in the drought areas.

Recently I had an opportunity of investing this matter. At different points which had suffered from successive years of poor crops I asked a number of men and women how they survived. They replied, "We could not have survived had it not been for Government relief."

One Friday evening I visited a country dance. Some 200 boys and girls and their elders were there. By chance I met the official in charge of relief. "What 'yardsticks' do you use in giving relief," I asked. "See the good spirits and courage of all these people," he answered. "Most of them up to three months ago had been on relief for years. Look at those sturdy youngsters, physically sound, with keen alert minds. They are the 'yardsticks' we use. Some of those lads will join the army, and others will produce foodstuffs, and all are in good physical and mental condition to do valuable and needed work for Canada during this war time."

My own conclusion is that the administration of relief has been well done; that the money spent has been a splendid investment which return handsome dividends to Canada in fine healthy boys and girls—in loyal citizens.

Following factors have tended to raise prices: Estimates U.S.A. winter wheat crop about 400 million—Reports of increasing frost damage in Argentina—

Searle rainfall report indicates a deficiency of reserve moisture for next year's prairie crop.—Russia begins war on Finland.—Wheat yields in Argentine turning out poorer than expected.

Following factors have tended to lower prices:—Visible stocks Canadian wheat reach all time record of 351 million bushels.—Winter grain conditions in Roumania and Bulgaria excellent.—Great Britain makes contract with Uruguay for 12 thousand tons of beef and 9 thousand tons of mutton.—Australian wheat crop estimated at 181 million bushels.

The old job in a new field. We all have our problems to figure out and the new publisher of the Chronicle hopes for the loyal co-operation of the citizens of Crossfield and district so that a reasonable measure of progress can be accomplished. With this co-operation, our problems will not be so arduous and will mean greater individual freedom to keep abreast of the times.

The survival power of Christmas, its persistence as a world-wide festival, lies in the fact that it quickens in all of us the sense of human kinship. It gets beneath the surface cynicism and releases those finer impulses which we all possess. For a day we become "as little children" and the end in our midst is the symbol of the joy which we seek.

A Merry Christmas then — merry because it brings to us the vision of love ruling in the hearts of men, and renewed hope that the dream of a day may yet become the perpetual reality.

The Christmas tree is supposed by large numbers of people to have originated in Germany, but the Christmas tree came in the first instance from Egypt, and its origin dates from a period much earlier than the Christian era. The palm tree is known to put forth a branch every month and a spray from this tree with 12 shoots on it was used in Egypt at the time of the winter solstice as a symbol of the completed year.

Wainwright: Aided by the good weather, the last roundup of buffalo at Wainwright national park has been going ahead at top speed. During the first two weeks, close to 1,000 were slaughtered out of the total herd of 2,900 to be killed this year. Sam Purcell, dominion rifle man, is shooting an average of 100 animals a day. The fine weather has assisted greatly in the rounding up of the buffalo scattered over 160 square miles of the park.

Around Field And Barn By E. M. C.

South and central Alberta is a strange and wonderful country and can never be measured by any but its own yardstick. Snowblocked roads and near zero temperatures in October. Trees budding, grass growing and flowers blooming in December. By the time this is in print, it may be winter again, but that is all part of the same story. The farmer's prospects and conditions can change and be as unreasonable as Alberta's climate. The only sure and certain thing is the unexpected, that, always happens. Under such conditions it is not safe or wise to assume any very large financial responsibilities, that is, so long as increased production does not guarantee increased income. The farmer particularly is asking for what he very often gets—trouble, by going into debt for more than his seasonable necessities. The only safe and sane course is to "heave to" and ride out the storm, and even then he may hit a mine. So many of us try to make farming a business instead of making a business of farming. And by that mistaken practice, we support thousands whose sole occupation and living consists of selling to and buying from, and "handling" the farmer in various ways. But you say "what would those thousands do otherwise?" The large office staffs, the lawyers, the machinery firms, the many grain companies and their staffs—Well? How many of our farm boys and girls are looking for city jobs and why? Whew! who wants to farm? Under present methods, the periods of depression for the farmer will become longer, the periods of prosperity shorter. There is no one cure but in so far as we farmers are immediately concerned, we must help ourselves.

We need to adapt ourselves to the conditions of each farm and locality, farm better and farm less, be more self-contained, smaller acreage and closer settlement. There are too many "wide open spaces." It is not a question of a lower standard of living, it is a matter of policy, the average standard is low now. In place of the old buildings being boarded up and used for granaries, we should see new homes on every half section, more families, and a notice on every gate. No salesman, No canvassers.

It has been said that debt, national, provincial, local and private, will eventually destroy democracy. Heavy taxation to pay off national debt, reduces the ability to pay off local and private debt. Any government under a democracy that increases taxation to any extent, goes out on its ear, so they borrow and let posterity pay, and when posterity gets tired of paying grandfather's debts, we get a Hitler or a Stalin.

It should be the task of a democracy to make available to make available to the citizens the means to meet increased taxation. Not overlooking the fact that increased taxation is too often the result of the voters demands for favors. Maybe I am wrong, but anyone past 40 who wishes he was young again, needs to look ahead. there are some mighty big bills coming due for our youth to meet.

If every farmer would be as interested and active in considering his own position in relation to these matters as we have been in the freak "isms" of fanatical and "clever" office seekers, our prospects as a class would be brighter.
